Concrete Water Butt

The Concrete 200L narrow water butt is a contemporary rainwater storage solution designed for gardens where space is at a premium.

With an ultra-slim profile of just 250mm deep, this slimline water butt fits neatly along narrow paths, walls, fences, and tight outdoor areas without getting in the way while providing a generous 200-litre capacity.

The realistic concrete-effect finish and dual-sided textured design allow you to choose the look that best complements your outdoor space.

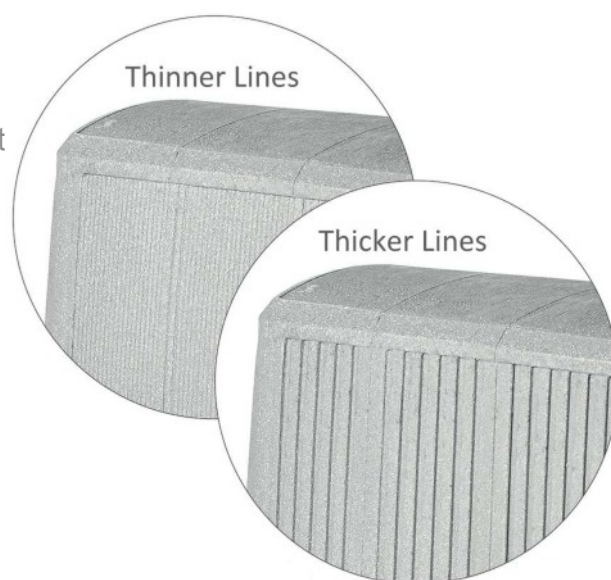

Manufactured from durable, weather- and UV-resistant materials, the Concrete is designed for lasting performance in all seasons over the many years of enjoyment it will bring.

Thoughtful details, including a premium 3/4" brass threaded outlet for a garden tap at approx 30cm above the ground so a watering can fits easily under, side drains/tank linking points on both ends make installation and use effortless.
